solar toys for kids, promotion gift

This solar toy is designed as a solar spider, which can get power directly from the sun. This solar spider can start its mini-engine by shaking itself when it is exposed to the sunlight. No battery needed!

Powered by sunlight, this solar cockroach can shake itself, seemingly forward or backward, spinning around as if it is looking for food. Specially designed and eco-friendly, this solar toy is also an excellent teaching article to provide students with some basic knowledge about the solar energy. Besides, it is a hot selling gift item for kids too.
